Ray Banwarth

RED BLUFF, CALIF.—Ray Banwarth, 79, of Red Bluff, Calif., formerly of Elizabeth and Stockton, died March 13, 1994, after a long illness.

He was born on Jan. 17, 1915, in Elizabeth, son of George and Bertha Banwarth.

He served in the Navy during World War II. In recent years he was in the investment business until his retirement.

He is survived by his wife, Evelyn; two daughters, Judith Wilkinson of Reno, Nev., and Betty Jo Olson of Redding, Calif.; one brother, Vernon Banwarth of Red Bluff; five sisters, Regina Goldhagen of Stockton, Adaline Chapin and Thelma Hopkins of Elizabeth, Rosemary Murray of Galena, and Elsie Mae Aide of Hazel Green, Wis.; seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents, one brother, William Banwarth, and one sister, Anita Long.

Funeral arrangements are pending and burial will be in Red Bluffs.